It's back to Fish School for you!

If you achieved a high score in the trial we need your help!

Our seas and shores are home to amazing wildlife, the source of vital fish stocks and give great pleasure and enjoyment for everyone. But too many fish are being taken out, too much rubbish is going in and too little has been done to protect the seas that surround our island nation.

MCS works tirelessly to clean up our seas and beaches, promote sustainable fisheries and protect marine wildlife - and you can help us achieve our vision for seas fit for life.

For more information on all the work we do visit: www.mcsuk.org and find out how you can be part of the movement to save our seas.

Marine Conservation Society Seashore Code

Stretching around 16,000km, the coastline around the British Isles is a huge playground for everyone to enjoy. Follow the MCS Seashore Code and enjoy the coast, without harm to yourself or wildlife.

Explore Responsibly:

- Leave animals where you find them.
- Carefully lift and replace any rocks you move and leave attached seaweed in place.
- Seashells nurture an interest in nature amongst children, so if you want to take a couple home only take empty open shells (like limpets and mussels) and leave the shells that can provide a home for hermit crabs (like whelks andperiwinkles).

Keep it Tidy:

- Take your rubbish home. Don't bury it or burn it.
- Poop scoop your dog's waste then bin it responsibly.

Mind your Step:

- Keep to established paths and dune boardwalks.
- If you dig holes in the beach, please fill them up again.
- Don't climb up or go near the top or bottom of a cliff.
- Check tide times to avoid being cut off.
- Keep away from soft sand and mud, and beware of slippery rocks.

Watch with Care:

- Watch quietly from a distance, especially near birds and seals with pups.
- Control your dog and keep it on a lead near birds and seals.
